

SPECIAL

Session Will Not be Held by Statesmen in Washington.

Question Settled by the House

By Concurring in the Senate Amendments on the Army Appropriation Bill. Mr. Lentz Fires a Parting Hot Shot at Mr. Hull.

Washington, March 2.—The house removed all possibility of an extra session by concurring in the senate amendments to the army appropriation bill. The vote stood 159 to 134. It was practically a party vote. The bill now goes to the president. The Philippine proposition and Cuban amendment were defended by the Republicans and assailed by the Democrats. The only exciting incident occurred at the close of the debate when Mr. Hull of Iowa, whose name had been connected with a lumber and development company in the Philippines, frankly acknowledged that he had received money in it. He said it was a legitimate enterprise, which was not looking for government favors. Subsequently, when he stated that the company would not have invested money if Bryan had been elected, the Democrats feared and hissed and shouted that it was because if Bryan had been elected the Philippines would not have been exploited. Mr. Lentz (O.) challenged Mr. Hull's right to vote, but Mr. Hull voted aye. The final conference report upon the Indian appropriation measure was adopted, and a number of minor bills were passed through the final stages. The conference report on the St. Louis exposition bill which agreed to Sunday closings was agreed to. A motion to commit to the Charleston exposition amendment was defeated, 81 to 132. The new revenue cutter service bill was side-tracked.

British Army Estimates.
London, March 2.—Mr. Broderick, the war secretary, has issued a statement of the army estimates for 1901-1902. The total is £87,915,000, of which £53,250,000 comes under the heading of war services, and is based on the assumption that for the first four months of the new financial year the field force in South Africa will be maintained at its full strength, and that thereafter a general diminution will occur.

Burglars Make a Haul.
Atlanta, Ga., March 2.—Professional safe blowers visited the town of Lincolnton, N. C., and secured about $10,000 in cash and valuable papers. Two stores were entered and the safes of each dynamited. R. T. Beal & Company lost $300 in cash, the notes and papers in the safe not being disturbed. From the safe of H. S. Robinson $1,400 in cash and $3,000 in notes were secured.

Island Divided Against Itself.
Cape Haytien, March 2.—The situation on the frontier of Hayti and San Domingo is more serious. There is fighting every night between the troops of the two countries and many soldiers have been killed. Both sides are massing troops, though all talk is of a peaceful settlement of the trouble. Quiet here and at Port-au-Prince.

DECISION
Of Referee English Was Received

With Derisive Hoots by the Spectators.

McPartland Loses to Buddy King, a Colored Fighter, at Denver, on an Alleged Foul. Four Rounds Fought.

American Consul Dead.
Washington, March 2.—Word was received at the state department that Mr. Alexander Wood of Pennsylvania, United States consul at Kiel, Germany, is dead of paralysis. Mr. Wood was appointed consul at Kiel in October, 1899.

Senator Wolcott Resigns.
Washington, March 2.—Senator Edward O. Wolcott has resigned as a member of the Republican national committee from Colorado, and Arch M. Stephenson has been designated as his successor.

NEGRO LYNCHED
By a Mob of Citizens at Camden, Missouri, This Morning.

Camden, Mo., March 2.—Dewey Smith, alias Bob O'Neil, a negro, was lynched early this morning by a mob of several hundred miners for the murder of Charles Stanley, whom Smith killed in a quarrel. The sheriff had Smith in charge but the crowd rolled him in the mud and despite his plea for the fair name of Missouri, the mob carried the victim off. Many were in favor of burning the negro but this was thought too severe and the mob considered gave the negro a chance to pray and then hanged him. The lynchers assured Smith that they would ship his body to his mother in Kansas City, and the men refrained from shooting holes in the corpse.

FOR TWENTY CENTS
A Hungry Unfortunate is Beaten to Death in New York City.

New York, N. Y., March 2.—Geo. Gale, from Providence, R. I., was beaten to death this morning in a cheap restaurant at 39 Bowery. Gale ate breakfast in the place and was unable to pay. The waiter called the manager of the place who struck Gale with his fist. A dish washer then interferred and knocked the guest down. The victim died in a few minutes. The police have made ten arrests. The price of the meal was only twenty cents.

Woolen Mills Close.
Louisville, March 2.—An order was issued by the Louisville woolen mills, employing 400 hands, to close the plant on March 11 for three weeks. The Falls City woolen mills, employing 550 operatives, has closed its plant for four weeks. Information was received here that the Jeans mill of the Knoxville (Tenn.) woolen mills had been closed, and that every mill in eastern and western Tennessee, Georgia and Alabama would bank their fires in the course of the next week.

Insurgents Worst.
Colon, Colombia, March 2.—News has just been received here that a bloody battle was fought Feb. 20, near Maria La Daja, between a small force of government troops and 500 insurgents under Roales, resulting in a victory for the government forces. The insurgents lost 30 killed and 10 wounded.

Berlin, March 2.—Statements representing that Germany, Japan and Great Britain have jointly remonstrated against Russian annexation of Manchuria are officially denied. The facts of the case are that the powers constituting the triple alliance and Great Britain and Japan and the United States have separately made to the Chinese plenipotentiaries in Peking friendly representations as to how unwise it would be for China, at the present stage of the peace negotiations, to grant any power separate concessions, and thus to render more difficult an agreement with the powers.

INSANE
Young Man Murders His Father and Mother.

Shot Both Down in Cold Blood With a Winchester. Recently Released from Asylum.

Orlando, I. T., March 2.—Bill Johnson, living with his parents 9 miles west of Orlando, shot both his father and mother with a Winchester, killing them instantly. The father was shot while on the side of his bed preparing to retire, and the mother was shot as she was coming in the door. The murderer is an unmarried man about 26 years of age. He was taken in custody by the authorities. He was adjudged insane some time ago, but was thought to have been cured.

VETS
To Form an Honorary Escort.

A Compromise
Under Which the Veterans Will Assist

In the Exercises Attending the Inauguration of the President.

They Will Not Participate in the Afternoon Parade, But Will be Reviewed by President McKinley.

Washington, March 2.—The dispute between the inaugural committee and the war veterans over the matter of precedence in the parade next Monday resulted in a compromise under which the veterans will take part to a certain extent in the ceremonies. It was decided that the local and visiting Grand Army veterans will form the honorary escort to the president on March 4. The veterans will not participate in the afternoon parade on the return from the capital to the White House, but after the procession has passed through the court of honor they will be reviewed by the president. Circulars have been issued accordingly.

Inaugural Crowds Arriving.
Washington, March 2.—The inaugural crowd has begun to arrive and sightseers are very much in evidence on the streets. The first of the government to arrive reached here in the person of Governor Barnes of Oklahoma, who, with a delegation from the territory, are here for the double purpose of participating in the inaugural ceremonies and urging the claims of the territory to statehood. Governor Odell of Illinois arrived later. They were accompanied by staff officers and other prominent people from their respective states.

Convicted Soldiers Escape.
Cincinnati, March 2.—Charles Durbin, George J. McDowell and John Joseph escaped from Fort Thomas after seriously wounding Guard Ballard. The three men had been convicted of deserting from the United States army and were sent to the prison at Fort Thomas to serve their sentences. They were taken out to pick the paper from the lawn. Ballard was not paying much attention to them, when suddenly he was hit on the back of the head with a rock and knocked senseless. The three men then grabbed Ballard's gun and escaped. Ballard is in a critical condition.

Developments in the Big Trust.
Pittsburg, March 2.—President Schwab of the Carnegie company arrived home, but refused to say anything on the Morgan deal. He is now preparing to get matters straightened out by the time the board meets next Tuesday, at which time it is reported the announcement will be made to the officers of the Carnegie company. It was learned from other sources that it is the intention of the promoters to try and have matters in such shape that the new concern can take over the properties of the constituent companies by April 1.

Battle With Burglars.
Pittsburg, March 2.—At Clayville, a small town south of here, two burglars robbed a half dozen homes, securing considerable plunder. They spent the night in a vacant house, where Constable John Neely surprised them in the morning. The robbers resisted, one using an iron bar and the other a revolver. Neely finally pulled his gun and shot the wielder of the iron bar through the head, killing him instantly. The second man dashed off, but a posse soon ran him down. He refuses to give his own or the name of his dead pal.

Star Ballplayers Jump.
Chicago, March 2.—Three National league players of stellar magnitude have been signed by President Comiskey for his Chicago American league team this year. They are Clarke Griffith of the Chicago and Third Baseman Wallace and Outfielder Hiedrick of St. Louis. It is not known what inducements were made to the men to induce them to leave the National league.

Mayor Jones Up For Re-election.
Toledo, March 2.—Mayor Samuel Jones, famous for his golden rule theories, issued a letter announcing that he is a candidate for re-election as a nonpartisan. He has been positioned by more than 3,000 voters to make the race. The Democrats will probably endorse Mayor Jones.

Suicided in Church.
Leadville, Colo., March 2.—W. T. Bond, who served in the Philippines as a member of the Colorado volunteers, committed suicide by drinking an ounce of carbolic acid in the Episcopal church during Lenten services. Ill health made him despondent.

Indians Fled.
Mexico City, March 2.—There has been another battle between the rebel Indians, and the Federal troops near Tabl. The slays were found well entrenched, but the Mexican troops rushed their position and the Indians fled in panic.

Another Bluff.
London, March 2.—"The German, French and British commanders," says a Peking correspondent, "have ordered a continuation of the preparations for the expedition into the interior in the event of the court being recalcitrant."

Treasury Statement.
Washington, March 2.—Statement of treasury balances in the general fund exclusive of the $150,000,000 gold reserve in the division of redemption: Available cash balance, $148,915,149; gold, $81,150,064.

PURSUIT
Of Gen. DeWet's Band Continues.

The Willy Boer Leader Still in Cape Colony.

DeWet and Hertzog and Their Forces Are Now Trying to Re-cross the Orange River at Zand's Drift.

Hopetown, Cape Colony, March 2.—Since Colonel Plumer's attack at Wolkevit, Feb. 15, the invaders have behaved like harried hares. The report that DeWet has crossed the river arose from some small parties crossing in a boat at Marks drift, where Colonel Plumer prevented the crossing of the main commando and took 100 prisoners. After the capture of DeWet's guns, Feb. 23, the Boers were in full retreat, and ought to have fallen into the hands of the column from Kimberley, but they slipped past in the night, recrossing the railway, and are now trying with Hertzog to recross the Orange river at Zands drift.

Is Threatened With a Race War.

Two White Men Murdered by Negro Residents.

Trouble Started When the Negroes Were Quarantined on Account of Smallpox. Lynchings Expected.

Richmond, Mo., March 2.—Chester Stanley was shot and killed by a negro named McNeil, at Mine No. 4, four miles south of here. Both men were employees of the mine. They quarreled over a trivial matter and the tragedy resulted. The negro is at large, but he will probably be arrested soon, and it is believed that he will be lynched. A Brown, a section foreman, was recently killed in a fight with a negro, and the feeling against the negroes is very strong here. The trouble between the whites and the negroes started when it became necessary to quarantine the negroes on account of smallpox.

VALUABLE
Estate of One Man Claimed by Two Women.

Each Claim to Have Been the Deceased's Lawful Wife—Dead Man's Will Contested.

Louisville, March 2.—The offering for probate of the will of Henry N. Williams, an insurance adjuster, who died two days ago, developed that two women claim his estate as his lawful wife. Margaret Williams, the protestant in the case, says she was married to Williams in New York five years ago, and lived with him in Louisville until his death. She also says her husband told her that he had been divorced from a former wife in Chicago. The will is offered by Fannie Williams, who lives in Boston. The estate is valued at $15,000.

FOREIGN Affairs of Varying Importance Continue to Demand Attention.

Cubans Object to U. S. Plans

Concerning Their Future Relations With This Country. Russia's New Demands Upon China. Other Matters Concerning Pig Tail Troubles.

Havana, March 2.—Senor Capote, president of the Cuban constitutional convention, called upon Governor General Wood and informed him that the convention felt itself in an embarrassing position owing to the vote in the United States senate on the scheme of future relations between the United States and Cuba. He said the delegates had not decided whether to continue the sessions or to dissolve. General Wood advised him to urge the convention not to take any rash action, but to complete its work as originally outlined, drawing up the electoral law.

Several delegates, on hearing that congress had adopted the amendment, said this would not affect the attitude of the convention, as its members would not agree to the scheme of relations suggested in the amendment.

Russia's New Demands.
Peking, March 2.—Prince Ching and Li Hung Chang had a long consultation over the new demands of Russia regarding Manchuria, which virtually means absolute Russian control, while at the same time China would be responsible should anything go wrong there. Both the Chinese plenipotentiaries admit that they fear to refuse these demands, although recognizing that compliance means the loss of a province to China. They also think that compliance might mean trouble with other powers, for Russia announces that only Russians and Chinese will be allowed to trade there, except at the greatest disadvantage.

King of Chinatown Missing.
Chicago, March 2.—Sam Heng, "King of Chinatown," and for many years a familiar figure in the "Lookee" district, is missing under circumstances which cause much alarm among his countrymen. Some are of the opinion he is a victim of foul play, owing to the interest he has taken in the differences which of late have been the cause of disruption of the secret organizations of the Chinese. May was last heard from Sunday in Kansas City, where he went to effect a settlement between the two factions of the secret order.

Legation Building at Peking.
Washington, March 2.—Relative to the delay complained of at Peking in the acquisition of a legation site by Mr. Rockhill, it is stated that our government is simply waiting for the passage of the appropriation bill containing the estimate for the Peking legation buildings. Mr. Rockhill and Mr. Conger jointly recommended a lump appropriation of $100,000 for this purpose, but the senate committee on foreign relations thought that $40,000 was as much as could be properly spent in the purchase of ground and work on the building until the next congress meets. This government does not intend to appropriate Chinese property without paying for it.

STRUCK
And Killed by an Engine at Cincinnati.

Hugh Thompson, Brother-in-Law of C. M. Overly, Run Down at Grand Central Depot.

C. M. Overly, superintendent of bridges and construction for the C. & D. returned home yesterday from a sorrowful mission, the burying of the remains of his brother-in-law. Passenger brakeman Hugh Thompson, of the B. & O., whose home was at Madisonville.

Mr. Thompson was on the through fast train from Cincinnati to Parkersburg, and had just completed making it up for departure from the Queen city, when he was run down by an engine which he failed to see. The accident occurred on the tracks running into the Grand Central depot, and the unfortunate man was instantly killed.

The deceased was the husband of Mr. Overly's oldest sister, and the widow is the only one left to feel the awful weight of the sad misfortune. Mr. and Mrs. Overly attended the funeral which occurred Wednesday at Washington C. H., the remains being buried in that city.

LATE COUNT GOURKO.

THE GREATEST SOLDIER OF MODERN TIMES.

First Distinguished Himself in the Russo-Turkish War Against Turkey—Hero of the Balkans—His Great Victory Over the Turks at Shipka Pass.

Field Marshal Count Gourko of Russia died on his estate at Scharow, Tver, a few days ago.

"Such good steel as this is fit for a man of such iron will," was the inscription on the sword presented to General Gourko by officers of the guards after the Russo-Turkish war, in which he won distinction.

Born in 1828, Joseph Vassilyevich Gourko became an imperial page when fifteen years old. After serving in the imperial body guard under Emperor Nicholas I. and attracting attention by gallantry in the Crimea, he became a captain in 1857, colonel in 1861, took command of the fourth regiment of Hussars in 1866 and was promoted to major general in 1867.

It was in the Russo-Turkish war of 1877 that dogged perseverance, combined with brilliant dash, placed him in the front rank of European soldiers. Twice within six months, in the heat of summer and again in furious December snows, he penetrated the Balkans, which the Turks had declared impassable. On the first occasion he compelled the withdrawal of a numerically superior body of the enemy, who for ten days besieged his intrenched position in the Shipka Pass.

Commanding the cavalry of Prince Charles of Roumania, he covered the army besieging Plovna and beat off the strong force with which Mahomet Ali Pacha sought to relieve that fortress. His successes won him the rank of field marshal, the title of count and the civil and military command of Poland, besides other honors and pensions.

Strongly believing in approximating conditions in peace manoeuvres to those of actual war, he seriously advocated the distribution of one full with every nine blank cartridges. He argued that such "accidents" as might occur would be far outweighed by the advantage of accustoming the men to the whistle of bullets. His plan was not put in practice, but many "bad accidents" resulted from another of his methods, whereby cavalry charges were carried right home, infantry regiments being intended to open to let the horsemen through at the last instant. He believed that charges were becoming too much accustomed to the command to halt, given in sham fights just at the moment when in real action their speed would be quickened.

General Gourko became field marshal on the name day of the present Czar Nicholas II., December 18, 1894, when at his own request, based on shattered health, he was relieved as governor-general of Warsaw and commander of Warsaw military district.

He suffered a paralytic stroke in 1898 after the death in prison of his son Nicholas, who had made a sensational attack on a Russian councillor of state in Monte Carlo. General Gourko's wife was Marie de Seilhaus, whose father was a French count, her mother being descended from an old Muscovite family.

Crack Wanted His Assistance.

One of Houdini's strangest adventures happened at a big hotel in St. Paul, Minn., where he was very well known. To his surprise he found that a couple of men occupying the rooms on either side of his own appeared to be mounting guard over him. At first he only suspected this, but after a few days he was perfectly sure that one or the other of his neighbors shadowed his every movement. One afternoon, when Houdini was sitting in his own room, he heard the sound of scuffling outside the door. Flung open he discovered his two unknown friends grasping a third man, who evidently had been wearing a long, dark cape that was dragged on one side, showing that he was heavily handcuffed. "We're a couple of detectives, Mr. Houdini," panted one of the men. "This fellow made his escape from jail some days ago. We knew that he wouldn't dare to go to a locksmith to get his handcuffs removed, and we suspected that he might come to you!"

Belfast Loves Picturesque Figure.

In the death of Professor MacMillan, professor of modern history and literature, Belfast, Ireland, has lost what was doubtless its most picturesque figure. He was six feet three or four inches tall, fair and ruddy complexion, hair prematurely white, with distinguished features, and a singularly noble head and brow. The man was as remarkable as his looks. He had been deprived of his father at an early age, and undaunted and alone fought his way through college, and finally attained to a proud place among the scholars of his day.

In the days following the baby's birth there is often a long up-hill struggle to recover strength, and the nurse busies herself in the preparation of jellies and broths for the invalid.

When Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is used as a preparative for motherhood the baby's advent is practically painless, there is abundant strength to nurse and nourish the child, and a rapid recovery from the shock and strain inseparable from maternity.

"I was pleased that Dr. Pierce answered my letter," writes Mrs. C. W. Young, of 21 South Street (New York), who writes: "When I had these mischiefs I began to think I would never have children. My back used to aching and I would get sick at my stomach and have such headaches I could not know what to do; they used to set me nearly crazy, and I used to dread to get up. I felt so bad; then I began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. When baby was expected I took it all the time, and I feel fine all the time, and I never get sick. I have a perfect romp of a boy; he is the light of our home. I am now twenty years old and my baby is eight months old. I now feel well, and weigh 135 pounds and the baby 23½ pounds. We feel very grateful for the good your medicine did for us. We are both healthy. Thanks to Dr. Pierce's medicine."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets keep the bowels healthy.

Prickly Fear a Great Pest.

One of the most powerful obstacles in the matter of land settlement in some parts of Australia is the prickly pear. It has grown to be a fearful pest. It has taken possession of whole tracts of country, and the settler has to fight a pitched battle for every acre he calls his own. A single fruit brings forth thirty to sixty and even several hundredfold of good productive seed. All herbage may drop, die and disappear in the oven of an Australian drought, but the pear survives, flourishes and carries on its progress of expansion and reproduction with unconcern. It was brought to Australia, like the rabbit, either for use or ornament, and it has become a plague and a pestilence. Its extermination in the colony of Queensland, at least, is a question of national importance.

PERSONALS

Mrs. E. P. Green has recovered from an attack of the grip at Canas, N. Y., by the use of Dr. Miles' Pain Pills.

Among the victims of the grip epidemic now so prevalent, F. Coyle is now recovering at Canton, O., by the use of Dr. Miles' Nervine and Pills.

W. E. Nicholls, of St. Louis, Mo., who was down with grip, is reported much improved. He used Dr. Miles' Nervine and Pills.

The friends of Mrs. L. Danison will be pleased to learn of her recovery from grip, at her home in Bay City, Mich., through the use of Dr. Miles' Nervine and Pills.

Everybody says that J. W. Udy is looking splendid since his recovery from the grip at his home in Des Moines, Iowa. They all know that Dr. Miles' Nervine was what cured him.

Prosecuting Attorney, Charles L. DeWaele, who has passed the three-score mile stone, had a time with grip, but when seen at his home in Roscommon, Mich., the other day, he said Dr. Miles' Nervine was what cured him.

At nearly three score and ten Mrs. Galen Humphrey was fighting against odds when the grip attacked her; but she took Dr. Miles' Nervine, and now her neighbors in Wareham, Mass., remark on how well she is looking.

After an illness of five weeks from the grip, Mrs. Harriett Jackson is again about and looking fine. She began taking Dr. Miles' Nervine after the fourth week. Her home is in Bowling Green, Mo.

He was a station hand in from a three-months spell of word, during which he had tasted no other meat than mutton. Also he stuttered badly. His eyes fairly leaped at the stuffed turkey on the hotel dinner table, though the bottled mutton made him shiver. Said the host: "What will you try, Mr. Straps?" Eagerly: "I'll try a bit of t-t-t-t." The word flooded him. Again: "G-give me a little t-t-t-t." Then red-faced and disgusted: "Oh, h-hang it! Give me some b-blooming m-mutton. I h-hate it, but I can s-s-s-e-e-e it anyhow."

GOOD-COLOR-WORK.

Children Love Color as They Love Birds and Flowers.

The amount of time devoted to work with color varies somewhat as the course of study varies in subject. In the spring and fall we do a large amount of work directly from nature. We begin with the landscape, we take landscape in the middle and we end with landscape. We draw in color from flowers and fruits, from bright foliage, seed berries, etc.; we watch the sunset and the sunrise, the play of color in various forms of water—in clouds, in lake, in river, in rainbow and in dewdrop; we are interested in the cold and somber hues of winter, as well as in the freshness and vividness of the green of returning spring—and we record these observations and impressions as they come to us, no matter what the season or the proportion of time consumed by so doing. As an average, however, if I were obliged to estimate, I should say that about half of the time devoted to drawing work had been used this year in the study of color, perhaps more, as we have doubtless been carried to an extreme by the novelty of the work and the fact that in order to make a strong beginning overemphasis was necessary under the conditions in which we work. If I were to answer in one statement the question, What is the value of a knowledge of the color to the child? I should say: It helps him to be happier, and being good, he is a benefit and a blessing to his community and his race. Children are emotional in their thoughts and feelings. Color appeals directly to the emotions and feelings. Good work in color is so largely a question of feeling—if we do not feel the beauty of the landscape, we can never adequately express it. Children love color, as naturally as they love birds and flowers, kittens and puppies, babies and playmates. There are physical reasons, also, why the brush is a better tool for children to use than a pencil, or even a stick of dry color. That medium is best for them which offers the least resistance, that affords the thinnest barrier between themselves and their expression. They think in mass, they see in mass, they should express in mass. An apple is round to the young child, but after it is red. How overwhelming has been the response from the children as to their delight in drawing with color! It is right and natural for them to love it and to use it. It is unjust and wicked to deprive them of a fuller acquaintance with it. With the older children, also, the study of color has been of immense disciplinary value. A much larger percentage of the pupils have been greatly interested in any other study in the entire course—School Education.

There passed away in Allegheny, Pa., the other day, a man whose career has embraced an epitome of the development and progress of railroad building—Philip James. The chief claim of this extraordinary old man was that he had pulled the iron for the first T-rail. This great innovation in iron manufacturing was produced in 1831, at the Dowling Iron Works, Dowling, Glamorganshire, Wales, owned by Joshua John Guest and Rev. Thomas Guest.

Mr. James was born in Wales in 1813. At the age of 7 he began work in the iron mill, sweeping plates. Young James was later placed in charge of a furnace, and was not yet 19 when he assisted in making the first T-rail. He came to this country in 1837, locating as puddler at Haverstraw, N. Y. Later he moved to Reading, Pa., and

MR. ROOSEVELT.

Jokes About His Exposure and Hunting in the West.

The president has had the grip, he is getting over it, said Harper's Weekly recently. A newspaper headline reads: "The President Sits Up. But All Possible Precautions Are Being Taken." He sat up twenty minutes (on Jan. 12) for the first time since the administration's physician put him to bed. Secretary Root's dinner was indefinitely postponed; the invitations for a dinner to the diplomatic corps were recalled. The correspondents announced: "The president's condition is mending, but Dr. Rixley insists upon every possible precaution." That is all very right and proper, but what about the vice president-elect? When the president is ailing is any one sent to pack the vice president in cotton wool so that he will be there if needed? Not any one. While the president has been ailing, with all precautions being taken, the vice president-elect has been scouring the West. "Weather intensely cold; lions abundant," says the dispatches. "The Rev. H. A. Handle took the party in last night and cooked supper himself. Tomorrow they go to Keystone ranch, where they will occupy an old log cabin." On Jan. 12, when the president sat up twenty minutes, the vice president-elect chased a lion eight miles, treed him and drew lots with two companions to see which should shoot. As the lion fell the beast sprang at them and was killed by the vice president-elect. What is there about the vice president-elect that makes the country regard his perils with so much philosophy, while it is so sincerely solicitous about his immediate superior? Is it a quality of the office or the man? When the prophet Daniel was offered to the lions his best friends had a bad night in spite of their hopes, but here's Roosevelt exposed to the Rev. Mr. Handle's cooking and the rage of all the lions in Colorado and no one so much as turns over in bed.

Slender's Opinion of a Portrait.

A little while ago an exhibition of historical portraits was held in London for the aid of some charity. These portraits were guarded by detectives. Toward the end of the exhibition one of these detectives went to a member of the committee and desired to know "who was the female" in a picture he pointed out. "Why do you ask?" his listener inquired, interested and amused. "Because, sir," said the detective, "that female is what we would call, in Scotland Yard, a 'high-class criminal'." The portrait was of Mary Queen of Scots!

Pearls for Girls' Hair.

Young girls in London are wearing string of pearls twined in and out of loosely massed coils of hair, and both coral and turquoise beads look pretty worn in the same way. Piquant bows of satin or velvet ribbon are worn, placed in front of the knot of hair on the top of the head, and a small spray of flowers, a single spray of holly, with its red berries, or a fall-blown rose, all give a pretty touch to the coiffure. Older women are wearing quaint combs and pins in their hair, thickly jeweled or treated with l'art nouveau enamel, which serves to introduce a touch of rich coloring.

A GOOD COUGH MEDICINE FOR CHILDREN.

"I have no hesitation in recommending Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," says F. P. Moran, a well known and popular baker, of Petersburg, Va. "We have given it to our children when troubled with bad coughs, also whooping cough, and it has always given perfect satisfaction. It was recommended to me by a druggist as the best cough medicine for children as it contained no opium or other harmful drug." Sold by H. F. Vorkamp, cor. Main and North streets.

Superstitious persons see in the death of Queen Victoria confirmation of the old notion that life goes out with the tide. The queen died at 6:30, just about the minute of low water at Cowes on January 22.

Dr. Samuel G. Dixon, the president of the Academy of Natural Sciences, is very fond of a collection of goldfish which he keeps in a big aquarium in his office. Some months ago one of the most amiable of these fish developed a kind of fungus growth on its tail. The growth became huge and the fish lost appetite, grew thin and seemed to be pining away, says the Philadelphia Record. It turned at last on its side—a sign that it was half dead, as all keepers of aquaria know. Dr. Dixon then decided to operate on the goldfish and with great care he performed last month the first under-water operation known to science, amputating entire the tail, which had been rendered useless by the fungus overgrowing it. The goldfish bore the shock well and began forthwith to improve in health. Strangest of all is the fact that a fine new tail has already grown out from the stump of the diseased one.

The Republican brethren are not all harmony in this city, and there will be some very active use of the long political knife before their city primaries are held.

One of the liveliest rows is in the selection of a candidate for water works trustee. Last spring D. C. Richmond was elected to fill the short term and he is again a candidate this spring for re-election to the same position. But he is not to be allowed to have the position without a struggle for two other candidates have been announced to contest with him for the nomination. The Republicans of the south side have brought out H. A. Durnbaugh and the Republicans of the sixth ward have presented the name of James Langan, each of whom will try to defeat Mr. Richmond for his second term and land the place himself. And at the election the Democratic nominee will knock out the winner of the three cornered row.

For the position of justice of the peace there is another hot contest going on between a quartette of ambitious persons who are anxious to succeed Squire Atmar now serving his second term. This fight is now furiously on between C. F. Bryan, P. A. Kahle, P. W. Rauch and Ebenezer F. Davis. Each one of these statesmen insists that he is the man who needs the job worse than the other and is willing to take a place on the ticket to be defeated by the Democratic nominee.

The half-dozen corporations that are to be consolidated with the Carnegie concern in the United States Steel corporation are now capitalized at a total of $457,070,200. For the outstanding shares of this amount, outside the Carnegie company, new shares will be issued aggregating $531,462,674, and to the decision of the Democracy at their primary election. This is a considerable amount of water, but it is trifling compared with the water already in these concerns. The American Steel and Wire company, for example, was organized by the consolidation of concerns that represented some twenty millions invested in the plants and eighteen millions of other capital, and this investment of thirty-eight million dollars was capitalized at ninety millions, the fifty-two millions of water being supposed to represent the advantages of combination. These advantages, however, have proved insufficient, and the new corporation takes them over the ninety millions at $98,250,000, or eight millions of water more. It will be seen from this that if the proportion of water added in the new deal is less than in some previous consolidations, it is because the old stock replaced by new is already so profusely watered that it has probably reached the point of saturation.

There is estimated to be not less than $400,000,000 of water in the proposed $1,100,000,000 capitalization of the great steel combination. This is the feature of the stupendous financial transaction which is looked upon with the gravest concern. There is no doubt that the economies in cost of transportation, raw material, production and management will result in a vast saving; but paying dividends on water must sensibly diminish the advantage which consumers have a right to expect, and at the same time increase the chances of successful counter-combination. The power which the Dingley tariff rates give producers to fleece the home market ought not to remain one day longer after the combination shall have got into the saddle and begun operations.

A George Washington banquet was held in Manila on February 22, at which General MacArthur used these very appropriate and patriotic words: "Expansion must seize nations that are producing beyond the requirements of their own consumption. Hence we are now here fulfilling our national duties with inspiration and hope."

Now all should know why we are in the Philippines. It is because we have been seized by expansion, a sort of a disease of the body politic which makes us insensible to the inoculation of the spirit of '76. But we have "hops" of recovering.

As president of the great steel combine, it is stated Charles M. Schwab will receive $800,000 a year salary. As that is equivalent to about $2,200 a day, he should be able, by practicing rigid economy, to worry along. Of course there is no question about his earning it.

McKinley is going to buy the Danish West India islands for a few millions. Our Syndicate President belongs to that class of patriots who is always ready to buy, and at any price, provided somebody else furnishes the money.

The billion dollar "Steel" trust, the Bloated Money trust, the big Railway trust, and a large brood of other plundering trusts, would never have seen the light if Bryan had been elected president.

In demanding that a pair of Chinese officials be decapitated the powers showed they thought this was another case in which two heads were better than one.

St. Louis gets $5,000,000 from the Federal government for its exposition, yet $500,000 was all Ohio could get, and then Nash knocked that out.

ROUTING A VISITOR.

Alonso Had a Genius for Ready Lies When Needed.

Alonso was my factotum, writes a consular minister from France. I called him my secretary, but he was also my messenger, commissionaire, guide, philosopher and friend. He was a Frenchman, who had been sent in his youth to Geneva, to learn commercial book-keeping, and had remained in order to avoid doing military service in the mother country. Thus it is also evident that Alonso was not a patriot, but he was a wise and artful wretch, and I regret to say that the ablest and promptest talent for prevarication I had ever known. When a tiresome visitor stayed too long and asked too many unnecessary questions, I could always depend upon Alonso to rescue me. Thus, on this particular day, the tourist college professor, who had lost his trunk somewhere between Turin and Geneva, was the only visitor left, and we were anxiously waiting for him to leave, which he appeared to have no idea of doing, and I was, therefore, not surprised when Alonso suddenly appeared and gravely said: "Has monsieur forgotten that the official funeral of the mayor of the commune de Plainpalais takes place at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon?" This was my poor, depraved Alonso's favorite falsehood. I think, during his three years in my service, he must have announced the funeral of the worthy functionary fully fifty times. Occasionally, to vary the monotony of the deception, he would unexpectedly develop a corner-stone laying at "Carouge," or the visit of a federal dignitary from Berne, but he generally had the mayor of Plainpalais to interpose whenever a visitor stayed too long.—Leslie's Monthly.

ENGLAND'S LACK.

Want of Electrical Progress Charged to Obsolete Patent Laws.

In the twentieth century we find that our competitors are ahead of us in the utilization and application of electricity. It is not to England that the foreigner comes for dynamo or electric tools or electric lifts or electric railway or tramway fittings. Our telephone system has long been a byword; Switzerland and Sweden are infinitely better off in this direction than our lethargic selves; as a motive power on our railways and tramways this new force has been as yet only occasionally employed, and the two or three electric railways of London are still a source of wonder to the inhabitants of our islands. All this is greatly changed from the day when we led the world. And whereas in the past we built the foreigner's steam railways, today the American is building or proposing to build our electric lines. It would be interesting to investigate the causes of our backwardness, says an editorial writer in the London Mail. No doubt our chaotic patent laws have much to do with our present situation. In Germany and the United States only genuine inventions can be patented; here any one can patent anything, whether or not it be a genuine invention, and subsequent interminable litigation may be necessary to determine the validity of the patent. The government by monopolizing telegraphs and telephones has been another obstructive factor, while legislation of antiquated and conservative type has hindered the inventor at every turn. Nor have we been quick to recognize the importance of thorough technical education in electrical science and its applications. Here England is much behind Switzerland, Germany and the United States.

THE STAGE.

Monday night, "The Dairy Farm."
Thursday night, "A Milk White Flag."
Saturday night—Frank Daniels in "The Ameer."

The Davidson stock company played a successful week's engagement at Faurot's last week. Their plays were happily chosen and put on in a very praiseworthy manner.

The company made many friends by their clever acting, particularly Mr. James Kennedy, who became an immense favorite with every audience. Mr. Davidson's company will be heartily welcomed should they return to Lima.

Next week's attractions are unusually strong, and furnish variety enough to tempt the most jaded theatre goer. A pastoral play "The Dairy Farm" comes Monday night, a farce comedy, "A Milk White Flag," Thursday night, and Victor Herbert's latest opera "The Ameer" with Frank Daniels and his big company, Saturday night. Each one of these attractions is absolutely pre-eminent in its class and is deserving of crowded houses.

Among all the good attractions that played at Faurot's opera house last season, there is probably not one that is more pleasantly remembered than Eleanor Merzon's charming play "The Dairy Farm." It was here late in the season, in fact, just two nights before it opened in Chicago for the summer, and made its phenomenal run at 133 performances—a run that broke the record. The company has not closed since, having played continuously since it left Lima last spring, and it returns with laurels gathered all over the country. The play will be found charming in some degree since seen here, but all for the purpose of augmenting the effects. The hero now makes his entrance seated on an old fashioned moving machine and in the memorable third act a most realistic snow storm is seen, with a race between John and his rival in cutters of the style of 1850. Everyone who saw "The Dairy Farm" last spring will want to see it again, and those who didn't see it, should not miss this opportunity to see one at the very best plays that has been produced in years.

Dunne & Ryley, the managers of "Floradora," the great hit at the present New York season, will present their big comedy company in "A Milk White Flag" Thursday evening.

This is the only one of Charles H. Hoyt's plays now before the public which is being presented in a manner commensurate with the fame of the author. Dunne & Ryley have wisely kept up the standard of its performance and the result is the "survival of the fittest."

Hoyt never wrote any thing more amusing than "A Milk White Flag," for while our militia have proved themselves something more than the toy soldiers, whose ranks Hoyt said he never joined because "he never learned to dance," the satire is most enjoyable with its pretty vivandieres, the regimental band, the one lone private, the colonel, whom "Napoleon resembled," the undertaker, who is the major of the regiment, (played by that veteran comedian, John Marble, who created the part), the widow and her eighteen year old "baby," the general, from the regular army, to whom the "Ransome Guards" are a seven days wonder, numerous clever specialties, music enough for a comic opera and a fine company, headed by John W. Dunne and Mary Marble.

"The Milk White Flag" will be found a sparkling and sprightly show.

"The Frank Daniels' comic opera company is coming to town to present, for the first time here Victor Herbert's great comic opera success "The Ameer," which was last season pronounced the greatest of his many successes. The company with Frank Daniels at the head, will be here next week and the engagement will afford the first and only opportunity for the admirers of Frank Daniels to see him in this city this season. "The Ameer" is described as being by all odds the best comic opera Daniels has ever had. Victor Herbert says that the music he composed for "The Ameer" surpasses anything else he has ever done. Among the cast of principals are Helen Redmond, Kate Uart, Norma Kopp, Rhys Thomas, Will Danforth, Owen Westford and Wm. Corliss. The scene of "The Ameer" being laid in far away India certainly affords an opportunity for scenic and costume pictures of Oriental richness, and Manager La Stello is credited with having embraced the opportunity to great advantage.

"Daisy" Rice, who was here during the week to start things booming for his attraction, "The Milk White Flag," has become one of the best theatrical advance men of the country. The talent which developed when he and Dick Hughes were keeping things warm around Lima has made him invaluable to his employers, Dunne & Ryley, one of the most successful managerial firms in the business.

Owen Westford, who played the part of the senile Chamberlain, in Frank Daniels' production of "The Ameer" has the distinction of being William Russell's only brother-in-law who is not an ex. She did not marry his brother. He married her sister.

Byrne Brother's famous "S Belis," a great favorite among Lima players, will be an early attraction at Faurot's opera house.

It appears that it was the intention of Frank Daniels' parents to fit him for the ministry, though his father rather thought him better fitted for a doctor's life. When he himself asked which he preferred, he replied: "Neither. I'd rather be a pirate."

Francis Wilson is credited with possessing a fortune that is greater than the combined wealth of all other comic opera artists in America. His income is about $50,000 a year.

Henry Miller has made a great personal hit in Madeleine Lucette Ryley's "Richard Savage." Mrs. Ryley's "Coat of Many Colors" is pleasantly remembered here.

Victor Herbert score for "The Ameer" is the catchiest the composer of "The Serenade" has ever turned. While the music is all good my prediction is that the airs, boys will whistle and the girls will play are Miss Redmond's solo "Cupid Will Guide," a rousing march, "Soldiers All," a captivating trio "Continuous performances" and Daniels' "In Old Ben Franklin's Day."

The seamy as well as the brighter side of life is told in a most fascinating manner in the new scenic comedy melodrama, "A Ride For Life." It shows all types of characters. The tramp, one of the comedy parts of the play, is taken by Ross Enow, who will be remembered with 1492 for several seasons, and who was last seen here as the principal comedian in Klaw & Erlangers' "Jack and the Beanstalk" company.

Frank Daniels' present chorus was selected from 337 applicants. The judges were Frank Daniels, Kirke La Shelle and the society reporter of one New York daily, the musical circle of another and the art critic of another.

A meeting of Ohio theatre managers is to be held in Columbus soon. The attendants will be the managers of theatres in cities outside of Cincinnati, Columbus and Cleveland. The object of the meeting is to organize for mutual help and protection.

It is the purpose of the organization to correct many things that work as a disadvantage to managers in one night stands. At present every theatre in the state is taxed in equal amount for a license. The managers in small towns pay the same as the managers in the larger places. They will seek to have this remedied. The organization will turn down the fake attractions, which have been traveling through this season. The result will be the patrons of Ohio will be given better shows than ever before.

Walter J. Sears, of Chillicothe, who, with ex-editor Kampf, of the Piquette Leader once made a profound hit on the amateur stage, was registered at the Hotel Norval this week. Sears left the stage because they wouldn't let him play all the female parts, and Kampf quit when eggs went down to eight cents and the foundation for a truck patch was laid next door to the opera house.

Before the season is over the Buffalo club of Lima will have enrolled among its members every theatrical press agent that approaches the portals of the initiating parlors.

CONTAGION AND INFECTION.
La Grippe is Infectious but Not Contagious.

Contagious diseases are communicated from one person to another; infectious diseases are conveyed through the air.

Small pox is a contagious disease; La Grippe is infectious. When an epidemic of the grip is prevailing it is in the air we breathe and no one is safe.

The only safeguard is to keep the system in the highest possible condition of health and on the first appearance of a cold in the head to use some safe antiseptic like Stuart's Catarrh Tablets freely, a tablet taken every hour or two for a couple of days will be sufficient to break up the attack.

La Grippe attacks the weakest part of the system, it may be the lungs, heart, liver, stomach or kidneys but whatever it finally locates it almost invariably starts with cold in the head and throat or in the other words, the disease at the beginning is catarrh.

This is the reason Stuart's Catarrh Tablets have been so successful in breaking up attacks of grip. The antiseptic properties of the remedy destroy the germs before the whole system is thoroughly infected.

Dr. Anderson says: Stuart's Catarrh Tablets being free from cocaine and harmful drugs should be freely used at this time of year on the first appearance of grip symptoms.

They check the excessive catarrh secretions, stop the fever and prevent pneumonia.

They are composed of antiseptics and may be used by little children as freely as by adults and with great benefit.

Dr. Lewiston says: My usual prescription for the grip is Stuart's Catarrh Tablets which can be found at all drug stores. Keep to the house for a day or two and use the tablets freely, and I have never heard any complaint of failure to cure.

INVITATION TO ADVERTISERS.

We cordially invite all advertisers and others interested in newspaper circulation to visit our press room and inspect the circulation of the Times-Democrat as it is run out from our fast Hoe press. We absolutely guarantee a circulation greater than any other Lima newspaper has now or ever had in its history of this city.

TWO VALUES.

HERE are two values to every purchase—what it costs and what it pays you. Cork costs 8 cents a pound, but if you are drowning half a mile from shore, its value would be "not what you pay for cork, but what cork saves you." When a woman buys soaps she often confuses the two values. She sees only what she pays. She overlooks what she receives. Now a single cake of Ivory Soap pays back from ten to twenty times its cost in the saving it effects. Test it yourself! Vegetable Oil Soap. Ivory white. It floats!

Festive Cat Out of the Bag

Did Mr. Bryan

And He Got a Cold Water Deluge.

A Side Issue Which the Republicans Were Not Prepared to Act Upon

Cropped Out at the Meeting Held in the Council Chamber to Select the Ward Committees.

Some idea of the enthusiasm that prevailed last night when the Republicans were invited to meet in the council chamber to select precinct committees can be extracted from the response which came from Third ward A. "Being the only one present from that precinct," said a voice, "I unanimously appoint Charles Stolzenbach as our ward committeeman."

Some of the other precincts were better represented, but there was plenty of room left to dance several sets without danger of treading on each other's toes. The formalities were over and dried and there was but a single variation, which came late in the evening. Attorney C. F. Bryan picked over the political treasures and wanted to put the party on record as opposing the recent attitude of the city council in allowing the extras for the building of the Timberlake sewer.

Mr. Bryan made a novel suggestion, and wished to force the Republicans to take a stand which would, in a measure, revolve upon the recent attitude resulting in the practical gift of $12,000 to the men who built the underground waterway. Mr. Bryan went further. He condemned the recent action taken by council as a steal from the funds and deplored an act so inviolate to the rights of the taxpayers of the city, and a violation of the trust imposed upon those who were elected to the council. It was a brief address, impassioned to say the least, but it reflected to a great extent upon the integrity of the Republican majority in council, and at its conclusion there was a silence so dense that a Damascus sword would not have cut an impression. Mr. Bryan thought that there was a practical remedy in the appointment of a committee of three from each ward, whose duty it would be to choose a candidate for council who could be depended upon to serve his ward and city without danger of being affected by outside influences; in other words a man who was blinded to every approach, only as it might mean a desire to conserve his constituents.

When Mr. Bryan sat down there was a profound silence, and it continued until Mr. J. Sanford, chairman of the central committee rescued the party from its dangerous predicament by a motion entirely foreign to the question proposed. Mr. Bryan's motion was not seconded and Chairman Sanford asked that the central committee recently chosen be empowered to fill all vacancies that might occur on the spring ticket. Everybody in the house had a ready second and as there was a unanimous voice to his proposition, Mr. Bryan shrunk into himself and dropped the subject that had had such a hot iron effect upon the assembled Republicans.

When the Republicans had assembled sufficient members to constitute a respectable quorum, L. H. Rogers was made chairman and W. L. Rogers, secretary. There was but one object in view, the appointment of a committeeman from each precinct, and ten minutes was allowed for that purpose. The roll was then called and the following names were offered:

First ward, A—Harry Keller.
First ward, B—George Quail.
Second ward, A—L. Metheny.
Third ward, A—Charles Stolzenbach.
Third ward, B—B. A. Hitchcock.
Fourth ward, A—Dan Baker.
Fourth ward, B—J. D. Kenneth.
Fourth ward, C—O. N. Ballard.
Sixth ward, A—Gus Kaib.
Sixth ward, B—Ed. Adams.
Seventh ward, A—Albert Gale.
Seventh ward, B—C. M. Overly.

After the meeting adjourned several ward committees met to organize and talk over the plans for the spring campaign.

A TAX PAYER

Expresses His Sound Views on the Taxation Subject.

We received the following from a citizen and taxpayer which tells its own story:

"The old Times-Democrat is to be highly commended for the stand taken, with the people, relative to the increased valuation of the real estate of our city. The immortal Lincoln once said, 'If slavery is not wrong, nothing is wrong.' Just so with this increased valuation of property. If that is not wrong, nothing is wrong. This question of high taxes is a battle that will have to be fought sooner or later—as well begin now as any other time, or many will go down under the galling yoke. It retards business, it puts a check on building, it prevents manufacturing, it keeps people from coming to our town to embark in business, and will drive those away that are with us. Let the good work go on. Ours FAVORING JUSTICE.

Oil is Flowing

In a Stream That Rises Eight Feet

And the Citizens of the Lone Star State Are Again Oil Mad.

Two Good Wells Drilled in by the Gilbert Oil Co. in Bath Township Today. A Wildcat Strike in Shawnee.

Beaumont, Tex., March 2.—Another great oil gusher was drilled in here yesterday afternoon. It is known as the Stranford well. The oil is flowing to the height of eight feet and the town is again greatly excited.

Two good wells were drilled in by the Gilbert Oil Co. in Bath township, quite near the city today. One is the number 2 on the Henry Pugh farm, which made a strong flow this morning, and the other is No. 6 on the John Boose farm, located on a direct line between the new well on the Fruch lease and a good producer on the Boose farm. The latter well is also showing for a good producer.

Yesterday, Shappell & Sullivan drilled in their wild cat on the R. E. Haines farm 6 or 7 miles west of town and though a duster was half expected word was received last night that the well was showing up for an excellent producer.

A well belonging to the American Oil Co. and located on a lease near Westminster, was ruined Thursday by the explosion of a twenty-quart shell of nitro glycerine when only about six hundred feet below the surface. Two unexploded shells are in the bottom of the wrecked well.

Many oil men from all over the country have visited the region of the big Texas strike, to say nothing of regions considerably remote from it, but so far as The Petroleum Gazette is informed, says that Journal, they did little business, preferring to wait, as to prices, until it is possible to get within hailing distance of the Texans without the aid of balloons, and also to await some of the results of further exercise of enterprise and energy on the part of Messrs. Guffey, Galay and Lucas, in the establishment of a market for their oil. According to some of the stories, what was deemed the superlative of rapacity was displayed by some of the Tigua county land owners when the Blossburg Oil Company's strike at Gaines raised hopes so high in that region, would evidently be classed as shrinking modesty in comparison with native estimates of land values in the Lone Star state since the Beaumont gusher came in.

Texas Prospectors.

Lewis Emery, jr., president of the United States Pipe Line company, and Joe Evans, of the Devonian Oil company, are at Beaumont. Both companies have secured leases in that field, it is said, but will do little drilling until they can see a chance to market oil should they find it.

The United States pipe line will probably not try to compete for the product of Texas, as it pretends to deal only in "pure oil" from the best producers of Pennsylvania. The pure oil people fought the Trenton rock product to the farthest confines of civilization, and did it more harm in the markets of the world than a little. Against their preaching the Standard Oil company had to put up a huge fight. The fight, of course, was on its own account, and not for the producers' benefit; but it was no less a fight in their behalf. The acts of the "pure" fellows have not been forgotten. They have retraced in a measure and have sneaked into the fields, and are actually now producing oil here.

They will undoubtedly do likewise in Texas, but they must be careful hereafter to tell the truth.—Teleo Times.

Struck Oil in Egypt.

Thomas Sharkey, of Glynnwood, Anglake county, has just written home that he has struck a splendid oil well in Egypt, where he is prospecting at the depth of 2,350 feet. Sharkey left last year for Egypt with a gang of Indiana oil drillers, to prospect for a New York syndicate. The drilling was an experiment and is one of the first ever prospected for there. The big well, he writes, has a flow equal to the best in America and is located near the Suez Canal.

By the Marriage of John L. Corey and a Former Hospital Angel.

Miss Mabel Martley Entertains a Party of About Thirty Friends. News From Across the Bridge.

The many local friends of John L. Corey, will be pleased by the little romance in which he recently figured. He was a member of the Second Regiment O. V. I. when in camp at Macon, Ga., while on duty at headquarters, members of the Lima company will remember, he became critically ill. It was during his sickness he received the attention of Miss Nera Shaw, of Atlanta, Ga., who took a special interest in his case. After the Second Ohio was mustered out Corey went to Atlanta, and obtained employment upon a newspaper owned by Miss Shaw's uncle. Recently he was married to the young lady, and they will continue to reside at Atlanta.

Howard Perry, of Colorado Springs, Col., having visited relatives and friends near town left yesterday evening for Chicago, where he will spend a few days before returning to his home.

A. J. Crane, of Morganstown, arrived in the city yesterday for a few days visit with south side friends.

Miss Mary Moech, accompanied by Miss Anna Crull, returned to her home at Unioopolis today.

Professor Fredrick Ferris, of Youngstown, was the guest of South Lima friends a few hours yesterday afternoon, enroute home from Chicago.

Oats Chapman left today for Salt Lake City, Utah, to spend a few weeks for the benefit of his health.

Mr. and Mrs. Z. A. Glendis, of Ft. Wayne, will be the guests over Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Brunsky.

O. S. Kahler, of Ada, is in the city, and will remain over Sunday the guest of friends.

Friends in this vicinity of F. S. Chapman, now in charge of a telephone office at Kenton, will be pleased to learn he has recently completed an electrical strain heating device for railway and street cars. It is claimed to be an economical and practicable contrivance.

C. J. Collough, owns a book printed in England in 1727, making it one hundred and seventy-four years old. It is a book of remedies printed in old English, the style being quite difficult to peruse. The book is composed of essay on anatomy and physiological subjects, giving remedies for various diseases under the several heads. Mr. Collough says he has tried some of the cures prescribed and found the beneficial even at this late day. The book is a relic well deserving preservation.

There transpired at the home of Miss Mabel Martley, yesterday evening, an unusually amusing event participated in and enjoyed by about thirty of the young lady's friends. The occasion was a masquerade and cake walk, both created immense hilarity. Other eventualities of a corresponding conviviality characterized what some of the guests denominated a "just fun" party.

Soldier boys of the Second regiment will be sorry to learn that Henry Smith, Col. Knerr's stenographer, during the Spanish-American war, recently had his eyes so badly affected while employed in a lithographing establishment in Canton, that it is feared total blindness will result.

Of Soot from Boiler Rooms

Fill the Lungs

Of a Boilermaker and Cause Death.

Life of Andy Kayser Terminated Suddenly Last Evening.

Pest Mortem Examination Reveals the Fact That His Lungs Were Blackened With the Foreign Substance.

Andy Kayser, a well known German who has been employed as a boiler maker at the Solar Refinery, met a sudden death in a very peculiar and unusual manner yesterday evening.

While doing some work about a still, about 3:30 o'clock Kayser was stricken suddenly and immediately became unconscious. Some of the other workmen hastened to his assistance and carried the prostrate form into the office of the time keeper and Dr. Steiner was hastily summoned but before he arrived, Kayser died without having regained consciousness. Coroner Burton caused the remains to be removed to Grosjean's morgue where he conducted a post mortem examination, assisted by Dr. Foltz, and found that Kayser's death had been caused by his lungs becoming filled with dust and soot from coal, the organs being so thoroughly obstructed by the accumulation of the foreign substance as to produce a heart clot and cessation of blood circulation. The lungs when examined at the post mortem were found to be blackened by the dust and soot that the victim had inhaled.

The body was prepared for burial and was afterwards removed to the deceased's late home at 1047 Forest avenue. Kayser was born in Germany and reached the age of 51 years. He is survived by a family.

Arrangements for the funeral have not been completed.

A BUNCH

Of Withdrawals From Primary Contest

Which Tend to Simplify Matters.

Two Candidates Have Withdrawn from Infirmary Director Fight and One from That of County Commissioner.

To the Democracy of Allen County.

I hereby withdraw my name as a candidate for County Commissioner at the coming primary election. I do not do this because I have any compunctions of conscience in beating the other fellows or because I like them better than myself, neither on account of poor health as I can still eat three square meals a day when I can get them, but I do so because my friends tell me I can not get votes enough which I think is a mighty good reason. I pledge myself in the future as in the past to be loyal in all things to the Democratic party. I thank my many friends for their generous offers of support and hoping that my competitors may all be nominated. I am sincerely yours,

W. L. BECHTOL

Withdraws From the Race for Infirmary Director.

I wish through the columns of the Times-Democrat to formally withdraw from the race for Infirmary Director. My health is such that I cannot continue the canvass although I feel that could I do so, I have excellent prospects for success. I wish at this time to thank my many friends throughout the county for the assistance and encouragement to me during my campaign.

Very Respectfully,
CHARLES GOBLE.

NOT A CANDIDATE.

Evan R. Jones' Name Announced Through a Mistake of the Printer.

An announcement was made in the Times-Democrat yesterday that Evan R. Jones, of Sugar Creek township, was a candidate for Infirmary Director. This announcement was one of the annoying mistakes sometimes made in a printing office, for Evan R. Jones is not a candidate for anything this spring. Had he entered the race this season it would have been for the portion of County Commissioner, for which portion he made such a strong fight three years ago. But owing to the fact that there is one Commissioner in the western part of the county, Mr. Jones decided to not enter the race this season but wait until next spring.

March Winds

The winds of March are the last gasps of a dying Winter. They breathe the breath of death.

Who does not know some sad story brought to a fatal ending by the uncertain winds of March? Women are so susceptible to weather changes. All Winter they protect themselves, but with the first indication of Spring they lose caution and take a sudden cold. Latent weakness is developed into acute attack by such a cold, and a hard struggle for health follows. Many times the fight is unsuccessful and the evil effects endure for years.

Many women do not know how weak they are until a March wind finds them unprepared. This is a treacherous month. Don't take chances. Dr. Greene's great medicine will guard you against sudden exposure by building up the entire system. It fortifies the weak points in the armor and turns weakness into strength. New life is taken in with every breath. Every pulsation of the blood is health-giving. All the action of the nervous system is strengthened and brought into control by healthy, well circulated blood. Health shows itself in the quickened step, the clear eye and the active brain.

Mrs. H. H. WAKEFIELD, of Montpelier, Vermont, says:—

"About a year ago my health was very poor. I was very nervous, with a bad feeling in my head and at the base of my brain, extending down the back of my neck. I was thin in flesh, and pale, weak and tired, and unable to sleep nights. I had a terrible deathly feeling which I should describe as a falling sensation, and many times I should have fallen if I had not taken hold of something. This condition continued for about three months before I found help. I heard of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy and commenced using it. Before I had taken one bottle I felt the good results of it, and before I had used the second I was entirely cured of all my troubles."

BLOOD AND NERVE REMEDY

A practical instance of the curative power of Dr. Greene's Nervura is that of Mrs. William Fish, of So. Montrose, Pa., who writes the following letter:

"I have read so many testimonials that I feel as if I wanted some one to read mine in regard to Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. I have had nervous trouble for over two years; it came upon me suddenly, without warning. In the night I awoke and found myself getting helpless after doing all my family could. I finally was myself again, but the effects lasted me the whole of the next day. I was so weak I could hardly walk; that was only the beginning; more followed, sometimes two or three spells in one night, and night after night not a wink of sleep did I get.

"I employed one doctor, then another, until I had tried three. Well, I got some relief, as long as my medicine lasted, but no cure. I was discouraged and took my case in my own hands, saying nothing to anyone, and began using Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. I am on the third bottle of Nervura and have not been so well in years as I am at the present time. Besides helping my nervous system, I have received help in abundance for other troubles I had for several years, weaknesses, etc. I can now sleep from the time I go to bed until morning; have a splendid appetite; where I hated food before. Any one of my family will tell you the truth of what I say.

"I feel I can never say enough in praise of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. It seems as though my troubles were a complication of every trouble one could name, and I feel like a different person in every way."

The counsel of Dr. Greene, Nervura's Discoverer, is at the free disposal of every woman who asks it, either by personal call at his office, 35 West 14th St., New York City, or by letter through the mails.

Books of Aluminum.

It is stated that experiments with aluminum as a substitute for paper are now under way in France. It is well known that the paper used today in the manufacture of books is not durable. It is now possible to roll aluminum into sheets four-thousandths of an inch in thickness, in which form it weighs less than paper. By use of suitable machinery these sheets can be made even thinner and can be used for book and writing paper. The metal will not oxidize, is practically fire and water proof, and is indestructible by the jaws of worms. The cost, however, now stands as a very large obstacle. A good deal of figuring is going on concerning its possible reduction.

A HORRIBLE OUTBREAK

"Of large sores on my little daughter's head developed into a case of scald head," writes C. D. Ishill, of Morgan, Tenn., but Bucklen's Arnica Salve completely cured her. It's a guaranteed cure for Eczema, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Pimples, Sores, Ulcers and Piles. Only 25 cents at H. F. Vortkamp's cor. Main and North streets.

Awakening Like Rip Van Winkle.

According to Black and White, competition has forced the District railway of London to adopt electric power, where years of protest on the part of the public and press was ineffectual. The electric traction of the London Central railway has been instrumental in detracting traffic from some of the District lines to such an extent that the management could no longer remain headless, although the directors had stigmatized electric traction as "a new-fangled fad not worth noticing."

"I had a running sore on my leg for seven years," writes Mrs. Jas. Forest of Chippewa Falls, Wis., "and spent hundreds of dollars in trying to get it healed. Two boxes of Banner Salve entirely cured it." No other salve or healing.

Educational Head at Washington.

General H. V. Boynton has been elected president of the board of education of Washington, D. C., taking the place of C. J. Bell resigned. General Boynton is one of the best known residents of the national capital. For years he was Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette and Commercial-Gazette, and only gave up active newspaper work five years ago. At present he is engaged on the commissions having in hand the work of creating national parks of the southern battlefields.

NIGHT WAS HER TERROR.

"I would cough nearly all night long," writes Mrs. Chas. Applegate, of Alexandria, Ind., "and could hardly get any sleep. I had consumption so bad that if I walked a block I would cough frightfully and spit blood, but when all other medicines failed, three bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery wholly cured me and I gained 58 pounds." It's absolutely guaranteed to cure coughs, colds, la grippe, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free at H. F. Vortkamp's drug store, cor. Main and North streets.

"My stomach was affected by grip and I could eat nothing but crackers and milk. I began taking Dr. Miles' Nervine and Pain Pills and the trouble disappeared." — Mrs. J. Lindsey, Montrose, Minn.

Giants in Colonial Days.

Truly there were giants in colonial days. One Daniel Leake of Salisbury, N. H., made during his lifetime and was paid for a million shillings. During the years he was accomplishing this colossal work he cleared 300 acres of land, tapped for 20 years at least 600 maple trees, making sometimes 4,000 pounds of sugar a year. He could mow six acres a day, giving nine tons of hay; his strong, long arms cut a swath 12 feet wide. In his spare time he worked as a cooper and he was a famous drum-maker.

RECOVERIES FROM GRIP.

Mrs. E. I. Masters, at her home in Monitor, Ind., used Dr. Miles' Nervine and Pills to cure after effects of grip.

Mrs. A. E. Loper, in the little town of Modella, Minn., used Dr. Miles' Pain Pills and Nerve and Liver Pills and was well in a few days.

President McKinley is slowly recovering from grip and its effects.

George J. Flannery was relieved of the awful pains in his head in fifteen minutes, by the use of Dr. Miles' Pain Pills. Now he is rapidly recovering at his home in Buffalo, N. Y.

Speaker Henderson is again in his chair in the House of Representatives after a severe attack of the grip.

J. C. Helfrey, foreman at the Westinghouse factory in East Pittsburgh, had a severe attack of grip, but he used Dr. Miles' Nervine and Pain Pills and was soon back in his place.

Rev. C. Body was in a serious condition at his home in St. Paris, O., but Dr. Miles' Nervine and Nerve and Liver Pills pulled him through all right.

Porto Rico's Delegate.

Frederic Degeton, the newly elected delegate from Porto Rico, speaks English fluently and has won fame as an author and lawyer. He is a graduate from the University of Madrid and holds degrees from the colleges Salamanca and Granada.

AFTER LA GRIPPE—WHAT?

Usually a racking cough and a general feeling of weakness. Foley's Honey and Tar is guaranteed to cure the "grip cough" and make you strong and well. Take no substitute. H. F. Vortkamp, cor. Main and North streets.

Portugal's Brave Queen.

The story of the rescue by Queen Amalie of Portugal of a drowning boatman at Cascaes brings to mind the fact that her majesty already wears a medal awarded her for saving the life of her own child some years ago. The child was drowning in the Tagus, when the mother jumped in and saved its life. Many stories are told of the queen's courage. She is, for all practical purposes, a qualified doctor, although it is not true, as often stated, that she has taken the degree of M. D. She has, however, studied medicine, and she was able, not long ago, to dress the wounds of a woodcutter who met with an accident in a lonely wood through which she happened to be passing.

Eugene J. Hall, the poet and publisher, says that one dose of Foley's Honey and Tar restored his voice when hoarseness threatened to prevent his lecture at Central Music Hall, Chicago. Nothing else as good.

H. F. Vortkamp, cor. Main and North streets.

Presidential Possibilities.

Political gossips in Washington are already beginning to consider Republican presidential possibilities for 1894. Senator Fairbanks of Indiana and Vice President Eliot Roosevelt are the two men most frequently mentioned, the Indiana man having a slight lead. Four years from now Mr. Fairbanks will be in his 53d year.

You're safe from coughs and colds if you have

DR. JAMES' CHERRY TAR SYRUP in the house. Pleasant to take.

DANCED WITH QUEEN

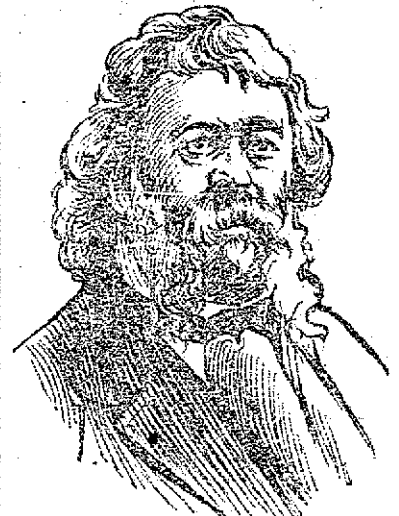

AND ALMOST LOST HIS STANDING IN MEETING.

Richard Vaux, the Only American Who Gained That Distinction—His Quaker Mother Mildly Reprimanded Him for the Unheard-of "Offense."

"Richard, I am told thee has been dancing with the queen. I do hope, my son, thee will not marry out of meeting."

The good, old-fashioned Quaker simplicity and distrust of royalty were never better exhibited than in these words of the mother of the late Richard Vaux of Philadelphia. They were her first greeting to him on his return home from the court of St. James after his memorable exploit at the court ball in Buckingham palace, when he attained the distinction of being the only American who ever danced with Queen Victoria.

It was in 1837. Mr. Vaux's position as secretary to Mr. Stevenson, United States minister to the court of St. James, was in itself a noteworthy one, and brought him at once into social prominence in London, but his exceptional personal attributes, his brilliancy of conversation, charm of person, exquisite manners, elegance of diction and gallantry of carriage made him the beau ideal of a court cavalier and a welcome guest in the houses of the nobility, whence he was received and welcomed with open arms. No one, therefore, was greatly surprised in court circles when it became known that the young queen had singled him out for a signal honor, and had commanded that he attend the court ball at Buckingham palace, which was to be given in honor of her coronation.

When, however, the night of the ball arrived, and the "queen's cotillion" set was formed, and the guests beheld Richard Vaux, arrayed in his brilliant court costume, take his place in it, a position that was supposed to be reserved for royalty alone, there was surprise and excitement indeed. Then the music struck up and the gallant young American threaded his way through the intricacies of the royal dance, bearing himself with an air of grace and confidence that was wonderful to behold. The queen was seen to smile in gracious approval as he took her hand and led her through the evolutions of the dance. And there was not a man present who would not have given a coronet to win so coveted a distinction.

Mr. Vaux, whose death occurred a few years ago, was for half a century one of the leading residents of Philadelphia.

Horace Greeley's Frivolity.

Horace Greeley, writes A. K. McClure, in February Success, was lavish in his gifts, often to most unworthy recipients, and was most sensitive when admonished on the subject, by even his closest friends. He loaned thousands of dollars to a scoundrel son of Commodore Vanderbilt, and, when Vanderbilt appealed to him to stop it, Greeley curtly closed the conversation by saying he did not expect the commodore to pay the loan. In one of the many conversations I had with him in his dingy office in the old Tribune building, I ventured to suggest that he was a more generous giver than his means justified; to which he answered: "Well, I guess that's so, but I can't stop it. I am like the southern planter who, after spending the proceeds of his crop in winter reveling, closed up the account by selling a nigger; I do it by selling a share of the Tribune." He originally owned nearly or quite one-half the paper. When headed, he had but one share, remaining of the 100.

Relative Importance of Letters.

To those who have never considered the subject, observes Science Siftings, it might appear that each letter is of equal importance in the formation of words, but the relative proportions required in the English language are these: A, 85; b, 16; c, 30; d, 44; e, 120; f, 28; g, 17; h, 64; i, 80; j, 4; k, 8; l, 40; m, 30; n, 80; o, 80; p, 17; q, 3; r, 62; s, 80; t, 80; u, 34; v, 12; w, 20; x, 4; y, 20; z, 2. It is this knowledge of how frequently one letter is used, compared with others, that enables cryptogram readers to unravel so many mysteries.

Queer Russian Seal.

Siberia is the birthplace of a new religious sect, the members of which style themselves "Slaves of Christ." They teach that the earth is flat and stands on three whales and that in the middle of the ocean there is a gigantic chandelier which grows at sunrise. Railways, telegraphs and telephones are attributed to anti-Christ.

GOOD

Men Chosen by the Democracy

For the Work

That Will Attend the Spring Campaign.

A Magnificent Meeting Held at the Court House
Last Night.

The City Central Committee Selected—J. J. Weadock Occupied the Chair During the Mass Meeting.

The spring campaign is now in full swing and judging from the events of last evening the Democracy of Lima has every reason to believe that its banners will be graced with victory at the close of the April election. Never was there a better attended or more enthusiastic preliminary mass meeting of the Democrats of the city than that which was held in the school examiners' room in the basement of the court house last night. The Democracy of the city was well represented and the voters were on hand early.
The place of meeting was crowded and many stood in the corridor when the meeting was called to order at 7:30 o'clock by W. B. Richie, who was chairman of the Democratic City Central Committee last Spring. Mr. Richie expressed his pleasure that was occasioned by such an excellent meeting and after announcing the purpose of the meeting, called for nominations for the temporary organization. James J. Weadock and J. D. Armstrong were unanimously selected as chairman and secretary respectively and upon taking possession of the chair, Mr. Weadock made a brief but very pertinent address, expressing his grateful appreciation of the honor conferred upon him. He remarked the magnificent attendance at the meeting and declared it to be a forerunner of the result of the coming spring election. His remarks were received with applause.

The selection of the new City Central Committee was announced as next in order and a recess of five minutes was taken to permit the Democrats of the various precincts to caucus and select their committeemen. The result was as follows:

First ward, A—Patrick Kelly.
First ward, B—J. W. McDonald.
Second ward—John Klatte.
Third ward, A—J. R. Fennell.
Third ward, B—Paul Agerter.
Fourth ward, A—J. W. Beall.
Fourth ward, B—Ed. McGrievy.
Fourth ward, C—D. W. Lissen.
Fifth ward—John Sioniker.
Sixth ward, A—Peter West.
Sixth ward, B—W. T. Copeland.
Seventh ward, A—Jos. A. Dutton.
Seventh ward, B—Frank Haller.

The mass meeting adjourned after the roll call had brought forth the announcement of the members to constitute the new committee and the committee immediately held a brief session at which W. T. Copeland was elected temporary chairman and J. A.
Dutton officiated as temporary secretary. The committee will meet in the office of W. T. Copeland on next Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock to form a permanent organization and transact other business preparatory to holding the Democratic city primary election.

The annual banquet of the Philomathen club, which was to have been held this evening (at the home of Mrs. J. L. Andrews), has been postponed until March 8.

Mrs. Shuler was the hostess who entertained the 1901 club Thursday evening at her home, 713 east North street. The game chosen was the ever popular progressive pedro. Many exciting games were played when the time was called and the high honors were rewarded to Mrs. Frank Mc-Comb and Mr. Wm. Van Horn, while the booby fell to the hands of Mr.
John Sweeney. An excellent lunch of three courses was served, after which games were played until a late hour, when all departed for their homes much pleased with the evening's enjoyment. Miss Verna Dunham will entertain the club next Thursday evening.

SUCCESS OF THE SHOE SALE AT A. VOGEL & CO.

The opening shoe sale at A. Vogel & Co's, successors to Wm. Niese, just south of the square on west side of Main street, was a grand success, far beyond the expectations of the proprietors. The up to date footwear and the wonderful low prices caught the public eye. We still have a very large supply of everything up to date in the shoe line and the public is cordially invited to call and get bargains.
Thanking you all for your liberal patronage. Respectfully,
A. VOGEL & CO.

PERUNA PROTECTS THE FAMILY.

Coughs and Colds. Grip and Catarrh.

The Roberts Family, of Falls City, Neb., Are Healthy and Happy—A Rare Sight in These Days. They Say,
"We Think Peruna Is The Greatest Medicine On Earth."

No man is better known in the state of Nebraska than Mr. Carl T. Roberts, contractor and mason. A typical American—active, shrewd and full of business sagacity. He is not only a provider for his family, but a protector. In a recent letter to Dr. Hartman he writes, among other things, as follows:
"Our boy, James, had the membranous croup, and after he recovered he was subject to repeated attacks of lung fever.
Our boy, Charlie, was also subject to attacks of pneumonia and pleurisy. Our third boy, John, was subject to fever and ague (malaria) and liver trouble.
Your remedy, Peruna, cured my boys entirely, and now I have three of the healthiest boys in the state of Nebraska, which I attribute to your medicine. My wife had stomach trouble which Peruna also cured. Altogether for my whole family we have used nineteen bottles of Peruna, and have thus saved $500 in doctors' bills. I am a contractor and mason by trade, and am known all over Nebraska. I have had a stomach trouble which has been greatly relieved by your remedy, Peruna, for which I am still taking it. We think it is the greatest medicine on earth."—C. T. Roberts, Falls City, Nebraska.

Mr. T. G. Walker, Carmelo, Kansas, writes: "It is with pleasure that I report that I am better than I have been for many years. I believe Peruna is without a doubt the best medicine that was ever used in a family. It has cured my nervousness, with which I had been afflicted for a great number of years."
It is a fact of ever-increasing astonishment that so many otherwise sensible and provident people will, for the neglect of so simple a precaution as to have a bottle of Peruna at hand, bring upon themselves the needless suffering and foolish expense that a practitioner of medicine is forced to witness every day.

As soon as the value of Peruna is fully appreciated by every household, both as a preventive and cure of these affections, tens of thousands of lives will be saved, and hundreds of thousands of chronic, lingering cases of disease prevented. Peruna is a household safeguard.

pation sent free to any address by The Peruna

THE IDLER.

The rivalry between the Van Wert and Spencerville gun clubs still continues, and another match has been arranged to take place at the first named town on the 14th of this month.

Alex Frankel, a former resident of Ducyrus, was with the happy crowd of Lima Elks who attended the minor entertainment at the opera house last night. Mr. Frankel has many friends in Ducyrus who were delig-ted to meet him.

DR. STEVENS & CO.

The standing and reputation of the above named physicians, in both the professional and business world, is too well known to require any explanation at the present time. Dr. Stevens & Co., of Columbus, O., make a specialty of all diseases of an obscure or chronic nature of both men and women. Their success in the treatment of those attentions by their special treatment combined with the Paris Food and Medicated Crayons is becoming so well known to the citizens of this country, and other towns in Ohio and adjoining states, that their practice is constantly increasing. This is also no doubt due to the fact that the Doctors issue to every patient a One Hundred Dollar Certificate, to be paid in gold, if they fail to cure. This insures the patient that they will get value received for the money they pay,
and it will not be lost or thrown away.
The afflicted should not miss the opportunity of calling on the Doctor and getting an opinion of their case.
Advice and consultation is free and invited at Lima House, Lima, Thursday, March 7th, from 9 a. m. to 8 p. m., one day only.
